Subject: Student Oral Paper Honorable Mention presented at IMAGE 2022

Dear Ziyi Yin:

As IMAGE 2022 Technical Program Chairs, it is both a pleasure and a privilege to notify you that your paper, Learned coupled inversion for carbon sequestration monitoring and forecasting with Fourier neural operators, has been selected as IMAGE's Student Oral Paper Honorable Mention presented at IMAGE 2022.

Official recognition of your award will be made available on the IMAGE website, within the IMAGE 2023 Official Program, and via social media.

The Society of Exploration Geophysicists (SEG), the American Association of Petroleum Geologists (AAPG) and in conjunction with the Society for Sedimentary Geology (SEPM) hosted, IMAGE 2022 – the International Meeting for Applied Geoscience & Energy.

SEG and AAPG are global leaders in disseminating high-quality applied-geoscience knowledge and data, and together they have created one powerhouse meeting. IMAGE is the go-to event for gaining the latest technical insights while bringing multiple disciplines of the geoscience sector. Your inclusion helped make IMAGE a significant learning experience for everyone.

Congratulations on your excellent contribution to the IMAGE Technical Program.

Regards,

Aria Abubakar
